Welcome

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

As I planned for this year, I kept one thing at the front of my mind; the importance of our League's responsibility to continue building upon the foundation laid by all the women who came before us. You can look around Abilene and see their footprints on places like the NCCIL, The Grace Children's Museum, West Texas Rehab, Fort Imagination, Ben Rich-ey Boy's Ranch, the League House at Hendrick, and so many other organizations that exist thanks to the work of the Junior League of Abilene.

Much of last year was spent researching and reviewing our Community Impact Transformation; which is a new model Junior Leagues across the world are using to identify and tackle the biggest issues facing their communities. We spent countless hours delving into community assessments, statistics, and having important conversations with our community partners. Our conclusion was clear, children in poverty need our help now more than ever.

As we embark on our first year with a new community impact statement, focusing on food insecurity, health, hygiene and basic needs for impoverished children right here in Abilene, I hope that we can think as boldly as those who helped bring these organizations to life.

We are excited to announce that we have already begun work on our newest project partnering with the AISD Homeless Liaison.

It is going to be another great year in the Junior League of Abilene, as we welcome one of our largest provisional classes ever. These ladies are ready to join our Active and Sustaining Members as we continue our commitment to helping the children of Abilene. On behalf of all the members of the Junior League of Abilene, thank you for your continued support of our mission!

Amy Carnes

President, Junior League of Abilene

EDITORS' NOTE

This year our League has seen tremendous growth. We have expanded our numbers with our largest Provisional class and we have grown our stewardship by implementing a new Community Impact Model. This Community Impact Model will be our roadmap to delivering Junior League's mission to Abilene. We are eager to share these amazing stories with you.

Community Impact

HOMELESS YOUTH LIAISON PROJECT

In June 2017, the Junior League of Abilene's board recognized how the community had drastically changed over the years. Due to the city's growth, the JLA could no longer meet the level of needs to protect the children nor continue advocating for the families. In the Fall of 2017, the Board approved and implemented the "Community Impact Model," created by AJLI, to reassess JLA's outreach efforts as it related to current community needs.

Amy Carnes, President of JLA, explains, "Deciding to transition into the Community Impact Model was both an easy, yet incredibly difficult decision. On the one hand, we all have a huge stake in our current projects and are hesitant to change a project that we have literally put our blood, sweat and tears into. On the other hand, we all want to make the biggest impact possible on those who need it the most in Abilene. The Community Impact Model is not about choosing only one issue to focus on and ignoring the rest; it's about defining our impact based on current needs, contextualizing our work, and acknowledging our capacity to do the work. This new model does not ignore our mission that the Junior League is committed to developing the potential of women. In fact, this model gives us the opportunity to learn how to truly become champions for children living in poverty right here in our backyards and affect real change in our community."

With a refreshed vision, the Junior League of Abilene focuses on advocating and providing basic resources for our community's children in poverty, specifically those who are homeless and/or under the care of Child Protective Services. When basic resources are not available and basic needs cannot be met, children have no foundation for learning and growth. Our League provides basic resources in three specific areas where we can make the most impact: Food Insecurity Resources, Health & Hygiene Resources, and Clothing & Other Necessary Resources.

Through this new community impact commitment statement, we created something new: the AISD Homeless Youth Program (HYP). We hope to help Darrin Cox, the AISD Homeless Liaison, organize, manage, and more effectively meet the needs of the homeless youth community. This is still a developing program and will take the help of all members to make this the successful program we know it can be.

AREAS OF GREATEST NEED

Data from Henderick Medical Center's 2018 Community Health Needs Assessment

Community impact is the lasting result of initiatives that enhance people's quality of life through improvements in conditions and environments that affect how people live, work and play.

HOMELESS YOUTH

10% of Taylor county's adolescent population are homeless or unaccompanied living in either temporary housing with relatives, in hotels, shelters, or a car on the street. Some without any adult supervision.

GENERATIONAL POVERTY

Poverty creates barriers to opportunities in education, health care, and basic needs, it can capture a family for generations. Taylor county has 18.05% poverty level which is 3% over the national level.

FOOD INSECURITY

Food insecurity focuses on the availability of grocery stores to children. At a rate of 1 per 100,000 people, Taylor county has a rate of 10.65, which is half the national average.

ABUSED CHILDREN

Foster homes are in shortage with 246 children begin sent out of the county due to the lack of foster homes available in Taylor county.

We are committed to promoting voluntarism, developing the potential of women and improving Abilene through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers. Therefore, League projects should fully utilize the capabilities of these trained volunteers by producing positive, long-lasting effects on the individuals who participate in or served and on the wider community.

A Christmas Carousel Thank You

Every year Junior League of Abilene hosts Christmas Carousel to aid in funding the projects and programs near and dear to us. This year was no different and was one of our most successful yet! This year's theme was a fusion of old Hollywood glam and Great Gatsby. The 1920s were all about sophistication and we hosted an event that paralleled the feeling of this era. We brought in a charming new attraction this year, Dueling Pianos, that elevated our Preview Party to the next level! During the many events held that weekend - Preview Party, Style Show and Brunch with Santa - we loved seeing you enjoy the sights, sounds and early shopping that Christmas Carousel brings! My team this year did an outstanding job making sure our fundraiser excelled in ways we had not seen before. Thank you for attending with your best Christmas spirit!

Mandy Ott
2018 Carousel Chairman

On Saturday, Dec. 1, the Provisional class hosted the 4th annual Reindeer Run 5K in downtown Abilene. Historically an event of Christmas Carousel, this year's event coincided with the extended City Sidewalks holiday happenings. More than 250 runners and walkers participated in the race. Registrations from the 5K help fund League projects, programming and events benefiting services helping women and children of the Big Country. Funds from the event in part also allowed for the continued support of the Abilene Downtown Association.
